

In Jane Taylor's "The Star," who is the speaker talking to?

In this lesson you will learn to answer a question about a poem by looking for clues within the text.

Let's Review

The Star, by Jane Taylor

Written in 1806

Twinkle, twinkle, little star,
How I wonder what you are!
Up above the world so high,
Like a diamond in the sky.

When the blazing sun is gone,
When he nothing shines upon,
Then you show your little light,
Twinkle, twinkle, all the night.

Then the traveler in the dark,
Thanks you for your tiny spark,
He could not see which way to go,
If you did not twinkle so.

- “The Star” by Jane Taylor

- poem

Core Lesson

- 1 Reread the question and think about what kinds of clues might help answer it.
- 2 Underline words in the text that are clues to answering the question.
- 3 Reread, paying special attention to the underlined words and ask yourself, “How does this information help me answer the question?”

Core Lesson

Who is the speaker talking to?

1. Reread the question and think about what kinds of clues might help answer it.

- name
- describe

Core Lesson

Who is the speaker talking to?

2. Underline words in the text that are clues to answering the question.

Twinkle, twinkle, little star,
How I wonder what you are!
Up above the world so high,
Like a diamond in the sky.

When the blazing sun is gone,
When he nothing shines upon,
Then you show your little light,
Twinkle, twinkle, all the night.

Core Lesson

Who is the speaker talking to?

3. Reread, paying special attention to the underlined words and ask yourself, "How does this information help me answer the question?"

Twinkle, twinkle, little star,
How I wonder what you are!
Up above the world so high,
Like a diamond in the sky.

What can I learn from these clues?

When the blazing sun is gone,
When he nothing shines upon,
Then you show your little light,
Twinkle, twinkle, all the night.

Core Lesson

- 1 Reread the question and think about what kinds of clues might help answer it.
- 2 Underline words in the text that are clues to answering the question.
- 3 Reread, paying special attention to the underlined words and ask yourself, “How does this information help me answer the question?”

In this lesson you have learned to answer a question about a poem by looking for clues within the text.